

TEACHER HANDBOOK DISCLAIMER

It is the policy of the Perry Board of Education to publish periodic rules and regulations in the form of Teacher's handbooks. The handbooks are not intended to constitute an employment contract or to limit or expand individual employment contracts or board policy. Where a conflict is found between the teacher's handbook and board policy, the policy shall take precedence.

The following statement shall be included in teacher's handbooks:

I understand that the contents of this handbook in no way constitute an employment contract. Final interpretation and application is within the discretion of the board of education.
