

Perry Schools Update

The last couple of weeks have created a great deal of anxiety and uncertainty as teachers across the state of Oklahoma prepared to walk out in regards to inadequate school funding and teacher salaries.

I am excited, pleased, and thankful to share with you that Perry Schools WILL BE in session on Monday, April 2. This is the culmination of an intense effort on the part of many people and groups of people that I would like to acknowledge and thank.

First, I would like to say “Thank You” to the Perry community, businesses, ministerial alliance, and local patrons. The support demonstrated by this collective group of individuals and community members has been the one constant on a yearly basis and it has been evident throughout this ordeal as well. Perry Schools is grateful for all you have done; all you do; and hopefully, all that you continue to do. What a blessing it is to be a part of the Perry community – THANK YOU!

I would also like to say “Thank You” for the Legislators and the Governor for this historic decision in taking the first step towards supporting Oklahoma schools at an appropriate level. This demonstrates the commitment that our government representatives have towards education and that the voices have been heard, in unison, across the entire state.

Finally, I want to thank our faculty and staff. They are passionate about the children they teach. They are committed to providing a great education as well as a caring environment. And regardless of the political climate throughout the state, their focus has always been on the students. Thank you faculty and staff. It is an honor to serve as your Superintendent.

Terry McCarty, Ed.D.
